

2 BANDITS GET $1,094 AT YORK LIQUOR STORE

Local State Policemen Check Traffic After Theft Saturday

Two armed bandits held up the Pennsylvania state liquor store, 635 West Market street, York, three minutes before closing time Saturday night and took approximately $1,094.24 in cash and two checks totaling $92.44. The bandits were not masked and one wore a new pair of white rubber gloves.

Three customers and the three employees were forced to lie on the floor of the rear portion of the store while the bandits took charge of the store.

They made good their getaway in a car parked in the 500-block of West Philadelphia street, York. Their car was believed to have been a black 1938 Chevrolet roadster. The license number is unknown.

State motor policemen from Gettysburg checked all traffic through East Berlin and on the Lincoln highway east of here until about 3 o'clock Sunday morning. Three officers were on duty at East Berlin and two on the Lincoln highway. Four state officers from Harrisburg stopped all cars from the east and south at Dillsburg.

Young Boys Give Chase
As the robbers ran from the store two York boys, John Walker, aged 14, and Guy Holtzapple, aged 13, who were walking by, followed them. Police said the boys intended to go into Gerald Gladfelter's grocery store, 556 West Philadelphia street, York, to sound an alarm.

As they started to enter the store the one gunman turned, pointed his pistol at the boys and warned them against going into the grocery. The boys obeyed his order and the bandits jumped into their car and sped away.

In the liquor store at the time the hold-upmen entered were: Martin Freedman, manager; Alfred Cohen, assistant manager; and Harold Hoff, clerk, and three customers.

As the gunmen entered, the one pulled down the door shade with such force that he tore it loose. His companion, fondling his revolver, herded the employees and customers into the back room and ordered them to lie down.

The one bandit then called upon Mr. Freedman to open the safe. This was after he had scooped up all the money in the cash register.

Threatened With Revolver
Mr. Freedman began to stall saying: "I can't open the safe. I have to have two keys."

"You're a liar," retorted the gunman. "I know better than that." "He then placed the revolver against my stomach," Mr. Freedman said later. "I thought I better obey."

After scooping up the cash in the safe, the gunmen left with the parting warning: "Keep lying there for 15 minutes."

But as soon as they had gone Mr. Freedman and the others got to their feet and police were phoned.

$42 Found in Street
William Landis, 592 West Philadelphia street, York, recovered $42 of the loot. He found the money lying in the street where the gunmen's car was parked and turned it over to police.

The gunmen were described as being between 35 and 40 years of age; five foot, six or seven inches tall, and weighing about 145 pounds. They wore dark suits and dark felt hats.

Both had rough features and were of dark complexion. The one brandished a short barrel, blue revolver, and the other a nickel plated revolver.

The liquor store closes at 9 p. m., and the gunmen timed their visit so that they could walk in before the door was locked.

A reporter asked Pew if Willkie had apologized "for anything he said about you before or after the convention." Pew, who supported Governor James for the republican presidential nomination, replied: "I have no idea he made any remarks about me before or after the convention."

The conference was at Willkie's own request. John D. M. Hamilton, executive director of the republican national committee, also talked with Pew and Willkie.

DISCIPLINARY TUNE

The hickory stick really rapped out discipline in the little red school house, reminisced John Baumbardner, 87, at a reunion of 1,000 "alumni" of the one-room schools. "When the teacher told us to do something, we did it or else. There was no comeback."

Great Britain Expects New Crisis in October

London Looks for Gibraltar Drive and Attempt at Invasion

Rome, Sept. 30 (AP). — A fascist authority said today that the supplying of arms to Britain, as in the case of the United States, would not be considered an "attack" calling for the application of the Japanese-German-Italian alliance.

(By the Associated Press)
A hint that gas warfare may be the next dread phase of the European conflict was dropped in Berlin today, while Britons took warning of a heralded new crisis in October.

Informed quarters in London looked for a double-barreled turn of events before the onset of winter — an axis drive to capture Britain's rock fortress of Gibraltar, coupled with an Indian summer attempt to invade England.

Aircraft Production Minister Lord Beaverbrook's London Daily Express declared pointedly that Adolf Hitler is approaching his "supreme gamble."

The newspaper said the axis powers would likely attempt to capture Gibraltar in an effort to draw the British home fleet to the Mediterranean, thus leaving the English channel less hazardous for the Nazi fuhrer's invasion barges.

Berliners Discussing Gas
The purpose of the projected Gibraltar coup, the Express said, would be "to seal our fleet in the eastern Mediterranean."

Berlin authorities envisioned the possibility of chemical gasses spilling from the skies on civilian populations, advising residents of the German capital to be sure everyone had a gas mask.

Although gas so far has not been used in the present struggle, in contrast to the World war of 1914-18, Berliners have suddenly begun discussing it as the No. 1 topic in air-raid shelters. Nazi officials urged 100 per cent distribution of gas masks.

British naval circles warned that the danger of a Nazi troop-landing assault is not yet ended, despite the approach of winter's storm. The Germans, it was said, still have a chance of calm channel waters during Indian summer weather in October.

Berlin reported new behind-the-scenes activity brewing to supplement last week's spectacularly staged Rome-Berlin-Tokyo military agreement, with Russia and Spain apparently involved in the new diplomatic "offensive."

Channel Duel Continues
In Rome, the authoritative Italian editor, Virginio Gayda, said joint Italian-German plans for fulfillment of axis goals, including Gibraltar—have been reached at a Berlin conference. He said that Spain's minister of government participated in the conferences which had "united plans of the three friendly powers."

Hitler's foreign minister, Joachim Von Ribbentrop, was expected to depart for Moscow in the near future, and there were some intimations that Spain may be taken into the totalitarian fold in treaty-signing ceremonies in Rome.

Amid these off-state developments, British and German artillery duelled across the English channel, shelling Nazi-held Calais on the French coast and Dover on the English coast respectively. One man was killed and several others were wounded as German "big berths" pumped their shells into Dover for 30 minutes.

Nazi warplanes flying high over London touched off air-raid alarms three times during the forenoon, and Hitler's high command said German raiders were strafing the island kingdom from Aberdeen to the English channel.

"Extraordinarily widespread" fires were reported raging in Liverpool's Merseyside port area, with the flames blown by a high wind.

Lutheran Minister, 34, Says He Will Not Register for Draft

Altoona, Pa., Sept. 30 (AP)—The Rev. Allen Clay Lambert, declaring "I would not sign away my liberty," told his little Lutheran congregation at nearby Sinking Valley that he would refuse to register for the military draft.

"I cannot go along directly or indirectly in the greatest crime committed against the republic since its founding," stated the 34-year-old father of three children yesterday. "I would not encourage my young people in this business."

He said that "this whole thing has been more or less forced upon the American people and I think the time has come for a revolution against war. . . . I believe the people of the world want peace and the only way peace can come is through the gospel of Jesus Christ."

C.A.A. PROPOSES AIRPORT PROJECT FOR GETTYSBURG

Doersom Site Mentioned for $324,000 Field

A $324,000 airport project for Gettysburg has been proposed by the Civil Aeronautics administrator, according to an Associated Press news dispatch from Washington, D. C., today.

The local project has been submitted as part of a $48,117,000 plan to develop Pennsylvania's airports to aid national defense.

The discussions of an airport for Gettysburg have centered around the site along the Lincoln highway west of here that is part of the Charles Doersom and Charles Redding properties.

A committee of Gettysburgians conferred in Washington some time ago on proposed plans for the airport. Those who went to Washington were Richard A. Brown, Esq., Dr. C. H. Huber, C. B. Dougherty, C. A. Willis and C. J. Toot.

The Pennsylvania proposals are part of a $500,000,000 nationwide program presented to congress is to assure civil landing areas essential to defense and for military training, spokesmen for the C.A.A. told the house appropriations committee. Congress has been asked to launch the nationwide program with $30,000,000 in cash and $50,000,000 in contract authorization.

152 State Airports
In Pennsylvania the plan covers 152 airports and includes preparation of land, paving, lighting, radio facilities and miscellaneous items. The plan does not provide for federal payment to acquire land either for new airports or for expansion of existing fields.

There is no indication in the program given to the house committee, which of the air port projects would be undertaken first if the money were made available, or the nature of the order of priority.

However, 32 fields rate a "national defense" designation in addition to some other justifications, such as air carrier site, civil pilot training school, intermediate field, or simply "civil aviation."

Except for the Pittsburgh and Scranton airports, all the proposed projects would cost the federal government less than $1,000,000 each.

Other Pennsylvania fields with national defense designations and the expenditure proposed include: Beaver Falls, $643,500; Black Moshannon, $100,500; Bristol, $783,500; Butler, $568,500; Chambersburg, $553,500; Conneautville, $370,500; DuBois, $345,500; Erie, $514,200; Johnstown, $555,650; Lebanon, $544,500; Lewisburg, $673,500; Martinsburg, $137,000; Matamoras, $380,500; Meadville, $360,500; New Castle, $360,500; Shenandoah, $723,500.

F.D.R. INSPECTS DEFENSE UNITS IN MARYLAND

Visits School That Trains Regular and Reserve Officers

Aberdeen, Md., Sept. 30 (AP). — An inspection of a 28,000-acre "laboratory" where the army puts to test ordnance ranging from tanks and 16-inch shells to rifle bullets started President Roosevelt off today on an all-day tour of Maryland defense projects.

The President saw anti-aircraft guns, bombs, tanks, a ballistic laboratory, and a school which trains regular and reserve officers and enlisted men for ordnance work.

Mr. Roosevelt came ashore from his yacht Potomac and a 21-gun salute thundered under a leaden sky in the Army's regulation greeting to its commander-in-chief.

The Potomac had left Washington Saturday night, cruised down the Potomac river and up Chesapeake bay.

Mr. Roosevelt was met at the dock by Governor Herbert R. O'Connor of Maryland; William S. Knudsen, member of the national defense commission and army officers and government officials.

Before returning to the capital late in the afternoon, the chief executive had arranged to look over the Glenn L. Martin aircraft plant near Baltimore, which is building powerful bombers for America's growing armed forces and for Britain.

He arranged to stop, too, at Fort George G. Meade, an infantry post which will be used after the first of the year to train upwards of 20,000 civilian conscripts annually.

He watched a 37-millimeter anti-aircraft gun cut loose with ten rounds.

One car towing an anti-tank gun bogged down for a few minutes but finally wrestled its way free.

At one point Mr. Roosevelt saw a demonstration of the new Garand semi-automatic rifle blazing away across a range, and a trench mortar firing duds. He looked at the Garand, but declined to hold it in both hands, explaining to photographers with a grin: "Somebody might think I was firing it."

New Oxford Man Is Injured in Collision

Two persons were injured, one so seriously that he is in the Hanover General hospital, when cars collided Saturday afternoon about 2:15 o'clock at a country road intersection, a mile and a half south of New Chester on the New Oxford road.

A truck operated by David Z. Ford, New Oxford R. 4, and a coach driven by Paul F. Topper, New Oxford, figured in the collision which resulted in damage of about $250.

Topper is in the Hanover hospital with fractures of several ribs. His wife was treated by Dr. C. C. MacMinn, New Oxford, for lacerations of both knees and a bruise of the head, received when she was thrown against the windshield.

Topper is to be charged before a nearby justice of the peace with failing to yield the right of way. The front of Topper's car hit the truck broadside at the cab.

Officer John M. Micka, of the Gettysburg detail of the state motor police, investigated the accident.

5 TO SUGGEST MEMBERSHIP OF 2 DRAFT BOARDS

Judge Sheely, Ira Baker and Commissioners to Meet

The Adams county advisory board to recommend membership for the two draft boards to be set up in Adams county will meet Wednesday morning at the court house to make recommendations in accordance with a letter received by each member last week from Governor Arthur H. James.

The county board includes Judge W. C. Sheely; Ira Y. Baker, county superintendent of schools, and the three Adams county commissioners, George P. Taylor, J. Arthur Boyd and Edgar C. McDannell.

Members of the board have indicated that the men to be recommended will be a type in which the people of the county will have complete confidence. Geographical representation of various sections of the two districts will be sought, it was indicated.

As a member of the Fulton county advisory board, together with the county superintendent of schools and the county commissioners there, Judge Sheely will go to McConnellsburg on Friday for a meeting with that group.

The governor has asked the various county boards to recommend to him the names of "citizens whose loyalty, integrity and fair-mindedness are beyond question."

Director Begins Duties
Harrisburg, Sept. 30 (AP)—Dr. William Mather Lewis, took up his duties today as Pennsylvania director of selective service.

The president of Lafayette college, appointed by Governor James last week, to direct the draft in this state, conferred with the governor and with Adjutant General Edward Martin over plans for registration, the first objective.

The Governor, upon the advice of General Martin, said there probably would be no state-wide inspectors. The original selective service plan called for 17 inspectors.

"Too many cooks spoil the broth," James said.

While the county seat has been officially designated as the headquarters of local draft boards, it was explained that was a general policy and it might be worked out for some boards to sit in their home communities.

One of the details to be worked out is the headquarters for each board. A spokesman said it was still undetermined whether the boards can obtain a place to work without more than nominal expense.

Each board will have some paid clerical help. Medical and legal advisers may volunteer as many did in 1917. Expenses of the conscription program are borne by the federal government.

Emphasizes Penalty
Harrisburg, Sept. 30 (AP)—Governor James, today outlined measures to be taken for handling cases where persons are "reluctant to register" for military training on October 16.

James emphasized that five years in jail and a $10,000 fine may be imposed for evasion or falsification.

If a registrant declines to co-operate or answers falsely his attention should be called to the penal provisions. If he is still "refractory" the Governor said, witnesses should be called to hear the penalty explained again to the person.

If after this, the registrant does not co-operate the case should be reported to the "proper law enforcing agencies at once."

3 CYCLISTS ARRESTED

Homecoming Held At McCurdy's School

Between ninety and one hundred persons assembled at McCurdy's schoolhouse, near Greenmount, Sunday afternoon, for the annual homecoming of former members and friends.

The meeting convened at 1:30 o'clock, with Richard Null, school pianist, in charge of a song service, during which a number of songs were presented by the audience. The opening prayer was given by Horace A. Crouse, of Gettysburg; the welcome address by Dale Hoffman, and a recitation, "Homecoming," by Richard Herring. The Misses Ruth and Grace Spangler gave several violin and piano selections. Minutes of last year's meeting were read by Miss Ruth Smith, Sunday school secretary. Included in the report was the list of deaths of former members which occurred during the past year: John E. McCullough, Cyrus G. Fissel and Miss Myrtle Fissel.

Following several accordion selections by Miss Ruth Spangler, the principal address of the afternoon was given by Horace A. Crouse, Gettysburg.

The youngest person attending was Harold Flickinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Flickinger; the oldest, Charles McDowell, of Gettysburg, and those coming the longest distance, Mrs. Emma Shellmire, of Abington, who was remembered by older persons present as Miss Emma Currens, and daughter, Mrs. Condy. The largest family present was Mr. and Mrs. Earl Flickinger and five children.

The entertainment features following the compilation of statistics consisted of instrumental and vocal selections by Ralph McDowell and children, Betty Jane, Caroline and George. By request Betty Jane and Caroline gave a special number and a selection was offered by the McDowell ensemble.

Littlestown Wins County League Baseball Title

Gettysburg's Loose Playing Contributes to Defeat

Littlestown succeeded Cashtown as champions of the Adams County Baseball league by defeating Gettysburg 10-3 for the second successive time Saturday afternoon at Littlestown before a goodly crowd.

Six damaging errors were largely instrumental in the downfall of the locals. Although pounding out 10 hits off the offerings of Turney Ecker, Gettysburg could manufacture but three runs. Bud Knox was reached for 15 safeties by Littlestown.

Gettysburg got off to a good start in the first frame when Hankey singled, stole second, and scored on Knox's single.

Tab Four Runs
The home club took the lead in the third inning by pushing over four runs. Althoff and Feaser singled and Bud Ecker was safe on an error. Rang skied out but Bankert was safe on another boot and Knipple followed with a single to score the quartet of runs.

Littlestown definitely sewed up the game with four more runs in the fourth. Althoff walked and B. Ecker lashed out a homerun for two runs. Rang doubled and singles by Shuff, Knipple and Bollinger added another pair of tallies.

The victors finished their scoring for the afternoon with two runs in the fifth. Althoff was hit by a pitched ball, B. Ecker singled and Rang and S. Ecker each connected for doubles.

Homer for Everhart
Manager Johnny Ridinger's outfit tabbed two runs in the first half of the seventh when Hankey singled and Everhart poled a homerun.

Knipple was the batting start of the afternoon with four singles in as many times at bat.

Gettysburg had earned the right to participate in the final playoff by defeating Arendsville twice. Littlestown took two of three games from Cashtown and then swept two games from Gettysburg.

BULLETS SCRIM WITH TERRORS

Drill Reveals of More Work for Both Squads

Coaches "Hen" Bream of Gettysburg college and Charlie Havens of Western Maryland pitted their football squads against each other in a scrimmage lasting more than two hours Saturday afternoon on Memorial field.

The Bullets were none too impressive in the earlier part of the workout but started to click toward the finish.

As his starting lineup Coach Bream used Freeze and Burman, ends; Hill and Schumaker, tackles; Emanuel and Levens, guards; Falkner, center; Shoemaker, quarterback; Stock, left halfback; Schmeitner, right half, and Sherman, fullback.

No kickoff was used in the informal practice game, each squad being given ample opportunity on both defensive and offensive work.

Coach Havens presented a rugged bunch of boys who should do well in their own class.

Wholesale substitutions were made by both squads throughout the afternoon. Many rough spots cropped up on both sides and these will receive the attention of the coaching staffs in preparation for their opening games on Saturday.

The Bullets will meet Wooster college, of Wooster, Ohio, here Saturday afternoon. Wooster captured its first game Saturday by defeating Manchester 13-7.

Professional Grid League Jumbled

Chicago, Sept. 30 (AP)—Every week is a tough week in this season's national pro football league campaign.

Only 14 games have been played in the 10-team circuit, yet nine teams have been defeated and tied, won at least one game each and four teams have been defeated and tied. The Washington Redskins, which were idle the past week alone have escaped a defeat in two games, the only team able to win two in a row at this early date.

Green Bay's champions, smacked around unmercifully a week ago by the Chicago Bears who in turn lost a midweek night contest to the Chicago Cardinals, got back in winning stride Sunday with a decisive 31-6 victory over those same Cardinals.

It enabled the packers to regain first place in the western division. Jock Sutherland's Brooklyn eleven defeated the Pittsburgh Steelers, 10 to 3, before a crowd of 26,618—largest of the day.

Detroit dropped Cleveland into the ranks of the defeated by handing the Rams a 6-0 loss. The New York Giants whipped the Philadelphia Eagles Saturday night, 20 to 14, to leave the Eagles the only entry in the league without a victory.

NO ROUGH STUFF, BOYS
Sellersgrove, Pa., Sept. 30 (AP)—Opponents of the Susquehanna university football team had better watch their step this fall. John Matthews, guard, and his brother, Dick, are full-fledged deputy sheriffs. They are the sons of Sheriff Jacob Matthews of Lycoming county.

Mack's Prediction of Yanks Third Comes True

By BILL WHITE
Associated Press Sports Writer
They snickered when Connie Mack predicted the Yankees would end in third place, but the "Grand Old Man" of baseball, as usual, is enjoying the last laugh.

The season has ended and the world champions are in third place. Thus the mighty Yanks have fallen—and that's the year's biggest baseball story. It's bigger than the fact that the Detroit Tigers held their aged infield together while Hank Greenberg and Rudy York pounded in enough runs to win their first American league title since 1935 in a mad scramble from the dissolution-torn Cleveland Indians and the Yanks.

In the National league the Cincinnati Reds were able to stave off the Brooklyn Dodgers early in the season—and coast home on the wings of a fine pitching staff and lots of hustle.

The year left other memories. There were two no-hit games, one by Cleveland's Bobby Feller and the other by Brooklyn's Tex Carleton. Five pitchers—Bucky Walters, Paul Derringer, Claude Passeau, Buck Newsom and Feller—won 20 games or more.

Pitching honors go to Schoolboy Rowe, whose courageous comeback is one of the year's bright spots and to Fred Fitzsimmons, two veterans who had the best win-loss percentage in the two leagues.

Joe DiMaggio won the American league batting title for the second straight year, and Debs Garms of the Pirates took the National league honors.

On Sunday the Boston Red Sox edged into a fourth place tie by whipping the Athletics 9-4 and 4-1 while the Browns took a 2-1 decision over the White Sox. Cincinnati tapered off an 11-3 walloping of the Pirates; the Giants beat the Bees 14-0; Brooklyn's Lee Grissom hurled a two-hitter to stop the Phillies 5-0, and St. Louis beat the Cubs 6-0.

RELIEF COST DROPS

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 30 (AP)—Pennsylvania spent a million dollars less for relief in the week ended September 21 than the comparable week in 1939, the Department of Public Assistance reported. The net expenditure to the 436,769 persons on the rolls was $998,410, as compared with the weekly grant of $1,998,831 in 1939.

FARMERS GUNNING FOR DEER

Warren, Pa., Sept. 30 (AP)—Deer ruined the buckwheat crop in 1939 so this year Cole Hill farmers refused to plant a banquet for the herd. G. N. Wentworth, one of the county's largest beekeepers, reports he has no buckwheat honey due to the absence of the buckwheat crop. Farmers are looking forward to opening of the deer season so they can get even.

CORNELL OPENS WITH COLGATE ON SATURDAY

Michigan Wins; Pitt Loses to Ohio State, 30-7

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Sept. 30 (AP)—Without trying to detract from the early accomplishments of such teams as Michigan, Boston College, Southern Methodist, Ohio State, Minnesota, Mississippi, Duke or Wake Forest, it's a good idea to remember that the 1940 football season is just getting under way.

There were enough big games over the week-end to make some fans forget that the championships won't be handed out for a couple of months. And there are more games of equal interest coming up this week.

Looking over the situation by sections, here's how the races are going:

EAST
Cornell, with most of the great 1939 team still on hand, opens against Colgate, 44-0 winner over Akron last Saturday. Syracuse, after a tuneup against Clarkson, takes on untired but reputedly tough Northwestern; Holy Cross meets Louisiana State, a 19-6 victim of Mississippi Saturday; Fordham opens against West Virginia, runaway conqueror of Westminster; and Princeton tackles Vanderbilt, which whipped Washington and Lee 19-0.

Pitt's Panthers, defeated by their 30-7 beating from Ohio State, face the Missouri Tigers, who won over St. Louis 40-26. Yale takes on Virginia, 32-0 victor over Lehigh. Georgetown, which piled up a 66-0 score against Roanoke, meets Temple, 64-7 winner over Muhlenberg. Brown, Dartmouth and New York university, continue to face minor opposition while Columbia, Harvard, Army, Penn and Villanova, among others, open with brothers.

MID WEST
Minnesota, triumphant 19-14 over Washington, runs into Nebraska's strong team. Michigan, which routed California 41-0 mainly on Tommy Harmon's three long runs, encounters Michigan State. Notre Dame opens against the College of the Pacific.

SOUTH
The Duke-Tennessee battle is the week's big feature. The Blue Devils, southern conference champions, wallop V.M.I. 23-0 in their opener and the Vols beat Mercer 49-0. The only southeastern conference clash sends Auburn against Tulane.

PACIFIC COAST
California's next opponent is St. Mary's, which tuned up with a 16-0 win over Gonzaga Sunday. Southern California, the conference favorite, was held to a 14-14 tie by Washington.

ton State last week and will try to get on the track against Oregon State, 41-0 winner over Idaho. Stanford faces Oregon while Washington meets Idaho and Washington State plays Montana.

Carnegie beat Geneva, 21-0, while Scranton, undefeated in 1939, trounced Davis-Elkins, 13-0.

Jud Timm's Moravian eleven upset Albright, 9-0, and East Stroudsburg surprised Panzer, 26-9, but otherwise results ran pretty much to form.

Franklin-Marshall, looking ahead to Dartmouth, toppled Lebanon Valley, 21-0, while Lafayette downed Ursinus by the same score. Pitt, Lehigh, Pennsylvania Military and Westminster, all of whom went out of the state to play went down to defeat. So did Kutztown Teachers, but only because of a 98-yard run back on an intercepted pass on the two-yard line.

Washington-Jefferson, St. Vincent, Susquehanna, and Clarion snared their opening games while Shippensburg held Slippery Rock to a 6-6 tie and Indiana came from behind to beat Lock Haven for the first time in six years.

LUXURIOUS HOME DAMAGED

Greensburg, Pa., Sept. 30 (AP)—Eleven fire companies fought for five and a half hours before halting flames at the luxurious home of the Roy C. McKenna estate "High Acres," four miles east of here. The McKenna family wasn't at home but employees saved jewelry, Oriental rugs and valuable paintings. Friends estimated damage at $25,000. McKenna is president of Vanadium Alloys Steel company of Latrobe.

SOVIETS VISION 3-POWER PACT WIDENING WAR

Russia Remains Firmly Neutral, Says Newspaper

Moscow, Sept. 30 (AP)—The communist party newspaper Pravda declared today that the new triple axis pact, which it laid in part to military co-operation between the United States and Great Britain, presages further widening of the war.

Soviet Russia, Pravda said in an editorial marking the first Russian comment on the accord, remains firmly neutral. The newspaper said Russia was notified of the German, Italian, Japanese alliance in advance of its announcement by Germany.

Accounting for the pact, Pravda said "doubtless it was stimulated in the first place by the latest facts of intensification and extension of military cooperation between England and the United States."

"It signifies the advent of a new phase of the war which is more extensive than prior to conclusion of the pact," Pravda said. "If until lately the war has been confined to a sphere in Europe and northern Africa in the west and a sphere in China in the east * * * now an end is being put to this separation * * *"

"Henceforward Japan renounces a policy of non-intervention in European affairs while Germany and Italy in their turn renounce a policy of non-intervention in far eastern affairs.

"This doubtless means further aggravation of the war and expansion of its realm."

The newspaper said a significant phase of the pact was that "it openly recognizes spheres of influence of its signatories and division of these spheres between them and the undertaking of mutual defense of these spheres of influence against attempts on the part of other states—and certainly in the first place on the part of England and the United States which collaborates with her."

An Evening Thought

Men resemble the gods in nothing so much as in doing good to their fellow creatures.—Cicero.

OUT OF THE PAST

Happenings of days gone by as chronicled in The Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times the files reveal.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

The fast "Compiler" has a gross attack upon some of our ladies. Such ungallant and ungentlemanly remarks are only worthy the source from which they emanated — and deserve contempt.

Married: On Thursday last, by the Rev. S. Gutelius, John C. Bridges, of Petersburg (U.S.), to Miss Mary Jane Forney, daughter of S. S. Forney, Esq., of this borough.

On the 24th inst., by the Rev. B. Keller, Joseph Doll to Miss Eliza Quickel — both of Menallen township.

On the same day, by the same, Edward Menchey, to Miss Mary Hoffman — both of this place.

On the 17th inst., by the Rev. Mr. Albert, John G. Weaver, of this borough, to Miss Lydia Melhorn, of Mountjoy township.

On the same day, by the Rev. Mr. Leken, James Poist, to Miss Susanna Fleischman — both of this county.

On the same day, by the Rev. Charles G. McLean, Daniel King, to Miss Mary Ann McClear — both of Hamilton township.

In East Berlin, on the 15th inst., by the Rev. John G. Fritchey, Jacob Bowers to Miss Sarah Ann, daughter of Wm. Yetts, both of Adams county.

On the 17th inst., by the Rev. S. Gutelius, Samuel Rhodes, Esq., to Miss Elizabeth Patterson, both of Figeedom township, Adams county.

On the 17th inst., by the Rev. B. Keller, John Tennant, of Cumberland township, Adams county, to Miss C. Miller, of Frederick county, Md.

Meeting at Cashtown: On Friday last a very large and respectable meeting of the friends of Harrison and Tyler, was held at Cash-town, in Franklin township. The meeting was organized by the appointment of the following officers:
President — Jacob Cover.
Vice-Presidents — Joseph Wilson, Jacob Sholl, Wm. White, Henry Bieseker, Hugh Scott, John Reed.
Secretaries — Wm. Paxton, Isaac Rife.
The meeting was addressed by D. M. Smyser, Esq., and Hon. James Cooper.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The Washington House, opposite the Depot, has been sold by McConaughy and Horner, to Israel Yount, for $5,500 cash.

Joseph S. Gitt has sold his large three story brick building in New Oxford, to Wm Emmert, for $5,600 cash.

Married: On the 19th inst., at the residence of the bride's father in Carlisle, by the Rev. G. A. Colestock, Cyrus G. Beals, of Gettysburg, to Miss Sue R. Hoover, of the former place.

On the 17th inst., in this place at Haines' hotel, by the Rev. W. R. H. Deatrich, Amos Plank to Mrs. Louisa Gordon, both of Gettysburg, Pa.

On the 19th inst., by the Rev. W. R. H. Deatrich, Ephraim Bair, of Hanover, to Miss Maggie Storick, of Straban township, this county.

On the evening of the 21st inst., at Centre Mills, by Rev. J. K. Miller, George W. Thomas, of Butler township, to Miss Anna M., eldest daughter of Jacob Y. Bushey.

On the 19th inst., by Rev. W. G. Ferguson, at the residence of the bride's father, Henry A. Cook, of Fayetteville, Franklin county to Miss Rebecca J. McKimm, of Bendersville, Adams county.

On the 14th inst., at the residence of the bride's father, by the same, Moses Phillips, of Hampton, to Miss Priscilla Wertz, of Tyrone township, Adams county.

On the 18th inst., by M. Hartman, Esq., John Rickrode to Miss Louisa Jacoby, both of Adams county.

On the evening of the 9th inst., at the home of the bride, by Rev. W. V. Gotwald, Alexander B. McNair to Miss Amelia S. Jacobs, both of Freedom township, Adams county.

On the 5th inst., by Rev. John Ault, John Lauck, of Cumberland county, to Miss Diana Sheetz, of Adams county.

The fair at Bendersville last week was largely attended — the number on Wednesday estimated at being over 5,000 persons. The stock of horses came fully up to expectation, and indeed beyond. The exhibition of other stock, we are informed, was not so full and satisfactory as in some other years — neither in the Ladies' department, but it was highly respectable, and reflected great credit on all concerned. The managers realized quite a large sum, more than sufficient to pay all expenses. There were some outside performances not in the programme; but when discovered, were promptly checked by the worthy managers.

Lamentable Event: On Saturday last, Samuel Gilliland, residing near Heidlersburg, left his house for the purpose of gunning. In the evening, not coming home, his family became alarmed, and went to search for him. He was found in the woods, dead, with his gun beside him, the whole load having entered his side. The particulars of his death are not known. He leaves a large young family.

We learn that the people of the Arendtsville Lutheran charge have presented their pastor, Rev. J. K. Miller, with a handsome and substantial buggy, costing upwards of $200.

We learn also that the German Reformed people

WEATHERED SPOTS

THE world's greatest tragedy is being enacted as London and England are being bombed by ruthless invaders. I wonder—if the spirits of the great think in their graves—what Bobbie Burns is thinking—and William Shakespeare, Keats, Michael Fairless, Wordsworth, Ruskin, and Milton?

I wonder what the spirits of those who have roamed that lovely countryside, in years and centuries past, are thinking about the destruction of the beauty that fed their souls in life?

I drove, recently to the beautiful village of Concord, in Massachusetts. There I stood before the former homes of Emerson, the Alcotts, Hawthorne, and others of that noted group of earlier American poets and writers. I drove to Walden Pond, where Thoreau was wont to idle and dream. A quiet, peaceful pond—now hallowed with the memories of a lover of all that is beautiful in nature.

Then I drove to the Wayside Inn at Sudbury that Longfellow immortalized, and which Henry Ford has so wonderfully restored. It was all like turning back the pages of history, and reading the early life of those days, as though an actual contemporary. There in a lovely meadow was the old Grist Mill, running as in days long ago, and in the Inn, rooms furnished with the utensils of long ago.

All through New England are to be found weathered spots that stand out in peaceful glory as if they spoke in significant silence! Every country, however, has such treasured spots—and they should forever live as object lessons to youth, and as examples of the faith and fortitude of those, no longer among us, who pioneered for our happiness and our way of life.

Weathered spots—weathered with the courage, patience, and vision, of those who expect each of us to prove our mettle as well—and to worthily carry on.

Weathered spots should be preserved and cherished.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Owning and Enjoying."

WIDOWER

A tight-rope walker has a pole to keep his balance true.
But a widower unaided walks, always in public view,
And let him smile on maid and dame when'er he goes about,
The busy tongues will have him wed before the year is out.

The widower is closely watched; fair game for one and all.
The widow sets a cap for him, inviting him to call.
The spinster looks on him in hope, and every friend he knows
Has some one of the fairer sex to whom he might propose.

Now should the widower be polite and smile on Jane or May,
"He's looking for another wife!" the gossips rush to say.
But should he show indifference to women fair or plain,
They wonder just how long 'twill be until he weds again.

Your widower is public prey. So closely watched is he
'Tis dangerous for him to smile on any woman free.
And when invited out to dine to cheer his lonely life
They always seat him by the "gal" who'd make the perfect wife.

"PREACHER ON HORSEBACK," by Cecile Huise Matschat; (Farrar & Rinehart; $2.50).

MAY seem a little odd to say that Cecile Huise Matschat's first novel, about the adventures of a circuit-riding preacher, is picturesque in flavor — but it is. Mrs. Matschat's book is a good performance with which to end the summer and an equally good harbinger of the fall.

She calls it "Preacher on Horseback" and furnishes it with two unusual and attractive young people at the very start — Janos and Rica. Janos is the young preacher. He is Hungarian by birth and American by adoption. He might have been a preacher in his homeland had not his high spirit and susceptibility to girls led him into trouble. He might even have been a violinist, or a doctor, for he had some foundation for both those callings. But beneath his irresponsibility and wildness there was an honest desire to do good for his fellowmen, and in America he decides to take his young wife and ride a circuit in the southern Adirondacks. Rica, since she loves him without reservation, leaves her home in New York joyfully to follow and support him.

Mrs. Matschat sets the temper of her book almost at once — Jan has not quite reached his first charge, where a supper has been prepared by the women of the district and a welcoming ceremony planned, when he tangles with a circus, beats the living daylight out of a harsh ringmaster, buys a horse he cannot afford and contracts the dangerous friendship of a girl in the circus. Quite a day's work for a preacher, and he misses the supper and the welcome.

Jan is that combination of hot blood and good impulses which makes such good material for fiction. Rica is the calm foil, against whose constancy Jan shows at times almost luridly — and yet she is no Elsie Dinsmore. And the hard life of upper New York State and Michigan in the 'sixties and early 'seventies is an excellent setting made more vivid than it might have been by the fact that Mrs. Matschat knows more about the out-of-doors than most writing women. Sometimes, it is true, Jan's exploits border the incredible. But they never quite slip over the edge, and anyway most people have known one man like Jan.

of the same charge have presented their pastor, Rev. Jacob Ziegler, with a fine buggy, the cost of which we did not hear.

Died: In this borough, on Monday morning, Mrs. Margaret Major, widow of James Major, deceased, aged about 78 years.

On the 23d inst., in this place, Matilda J., daughter of Jacob J. and Kate C. Wills, aged 6 months and 17 days.

The Road to Snani Lun

By RITA MOHLER HANSON

YESTERDAY, Lynn Britton and her half-brother Dick have fled a Mongolian temple in which some of the lamas have apparently recognized her as the reincarnation of the Goddess Tara. The two are hiding in the gatehouse of the temple, watching the crowd milling about in the compound. Fright and fascination disturb Lynn almost equally.

Chapter Three
The Horoscope

"Sherdock's pacified them somehow," Dick said.

Sherdock and his handsome escort mounted their horses, led by the commanding officer astride a gray Arabian, tall and magnificent in comparison with the Mongol ponies that followed him. The guard threw the gate wide open for the approaching cavalcade which dashed through and halted with the horses pawing the air while the riders glanced over the empty field before speeding down the road that led to the walled city of Pai Shu.

A moment later Dick and Lynn were outside the gate of the Temple of Three Joyous Reasons and it had closed firmly behind them.

"What would have happened if they'd found us?" she asked.

"Plenty." He gripped her elbow and turned her towards the village. "They thought we had a motor car waiting to take us away." She put a hand on his arm to slow down his walk.

"Will our visit to Shani Lun be called off now?"

"Of course not," he replied impatiently.

"I wonder what he said to pacify the lamas," she mused.

Dick frowned. Remember you're not in America where a good-looking girl can go where she pleases and get away with anything. This is the Orient where women are property and rate no more consideration than domestic animals." They rounded a mud hovel and entered the village street.

"What's Temu Darin?" she asked abruptly. "A curse or the name of that officer?"

"Both."

"Tell me about him," she persisted. "Is he a friend of the Prince?"

"I'll say he's a friend of the Prince!"

Lynn stared at the moon. "That look he gave me! He was dreadfully angry. What did he say?"

"He said to get out of there."

She laughed a little. "He didn't say it in English. Was he educated with the Prince in France and America?"

"He was."

"Then he and Sherdock Fuyeh will save our lives if we are still in danger?"

Her brother made no answer. He was still trembling as they reached her door in the courtyard of the inn.

"I felt all along that pilgrim meant us harm," she said. "He's the one who started the trouble. Did you notice him, Dick? He pointed me out?"

"I warned you," he growled, "that these people know things without being told."

She glanced at him obliquely. "What have you against this Temu Darin?" "She paused. "Or has he something against you?"

He lighted a cigarette, ignoring her question. "I'll send word to Sherdock tonight that he can find us here. It's just as well we did not go to the temple." He gazed at her distractedly for a moment. "Lynn I wish—" He gave up, and opening the door, gently shoved her into her room. "Good night, Kid."

She went peacefully, but wondering what was in his mind.

Rash Decision

Lighting a candle, Lynn sat down on the kang, the brick chimney that ran along one side of the room as a wide platform. It was maddening not to know what was bothering Dick—just what thing he feared.

She surmised that there was more to it than the escapade in the temple. The whole affair had been queer since their meeting in Peiping, the first one in many years. It was quite evident that he was disappointed to find her independent and self-sufficient, and not expecting him to become her guardian and arbiter of her fate, as he had apparently hoped.

She glanced at her trunk and bags stacked under the parchment window, at the freshly papered walls, the clean floor with its strip of matting. A very pleasant Chinese inn, but she wished she could have a bath.

Why had Dick whisked her through Peiping and off up here to this border village instead of taking her to Pai Shu where there must be a European hotel? That he had something to tell her now seemed a thin excuse for all this. Perhaps her friends and relatives were right in trying to discourage her from coming.

With the whole of Asia in a turmoil, she had casually taken Dick at his word and accepted through him an invitation to visit the court of a native ruler of a Mongolian principality beyond the Gobi.

That Dick had started out badly as a young man she well knew. She had been a child of five when he ran away to evade an embezzlement charge. The disgrace broke his father's heart.

But Dick had written with such genuine remorse for the sorrow he had brought on the family that Lynn was deeply touched. It seemed that a chance newspaper picture of her, his little half-sister grown up, had prompted him to communicate with his family despite his intention never to do so.

Letter From Afar

The photograph had been taken during her Junior League social service work and was first published in a San Francisco newspaper. As a result of the reproduction of this picture of a smiling, tender-eyed American girl holding a pair of Chinese twin babies in her arms Lynn had received a good many letters. But the happiest return had been the word from her brother.

At the time he was in Delun, the capital of Shani Lun, trying to negotiate a mining concession with the Prince. The interview had gone badly until he happened to glance at a newspaper lying on one side of the deck with the picture out as if the Prince had been looking at it. Gazing more closely at the caption he saw the name Lynn Britton.

"That's my sister!" he had said.

The Prince became interested at once, and after scrutinizing Dick sharply, seemed to realize he told the truth. The Prince then sent for his paternal uncle, Sherdock Fuyeh, head of the state lamassery, his mother, a Chinese princess, and his aunt, a Mongol duchess.

The picture proved to be an open sesame for Dick. Even though he did not secure the concession, he received prerequisites perhaps more valuable. His third letter urged that Lynn visit them.

"They've had the grand lama cast your horoscope," he wrote. "And I understand it is very favorable or they would never have invited you." Then he went on in a more serious vein, regretting all the years they had been apart, that it was his place to look after his little sister now, to help her plan her future. He promised to take very good care of her.

Timely Reminders for Adams County Farmers From State College Specialists.

Several good wheat varieties are adapted to use in Pennsylvania. According to extension agronomists, these varieties are Forward, Leaps, Prolific, Nittany, Purkoff, Thorne, and Yorkwin. Both bearded and beardless wheats are represented by these six varieties, and some are well-established while others are comparatively new.

An outlet for otherwise unmarketable apples is provided in the making of sweet cider. Inferior and little-known varieties can be used for the purpose, but all decayed and wormy apples must be discarded in the production of high-quality cider. Leaflet 46, "Preparation of Sweet Cider," which may be obtained from the Agricultural Publications Office, State College, Pa., gives detailed information.

Admits Killing Woman
In Fight in Farmhouse

Philadelphia, Sept. 30 (AP)—A legal trail that could lead to the electric chair began today for a 35-year-old short-order cook who admitted, police say, that he took attractive Mrs. Ethel Watkins to a vacant farmhouse 20 miles from the city and bludgeoned her to death in a liquor-infused rage.

Mrs. Atkins' body was found last Tuesday in an old dwelling at Horsham, Montgomery county. Wife of a Philadelphia bricklayer and mother of twin sons, she was related by a former marriage to the Duke tobacco family of North Carolina.

Early Sunday, Police Captain William C. Engle said, William J. Earnest signed a statement that he killed Mrs. Atkins after accompanying her on a round of Philadelphia taprooms.

Police arranged to turn Ernest, chunky, blond counter man in a North Philadelphia lunch wagon, over to Montgomery county officials today after a hearing on technical charges of being a fugitive from justice.

The Taos Indians of New Mexico wear white blankets in summer and red and blue in winter.

Anti-Trust Suit Pressed
Against Oil Industry

Washington, Sept. 30 (AP)—With lower prices for gasoline and fuel oil as its avowed objective, the Justice department prepared today to press an anti-trust suit against the petroleum industry.

The department, announcing that the suit would be filed today in federal court here, named as defendants the American Petroleum Institute — whose dissolution is sought—and 22 major oil companies and their subsidiaries.

The department's summary of the complaint, which Attorney General Jackson ordered the anti-trust division to file, listed charges ranging from conspiracy to maintain "non-competitive prices" for crude oil to agreements, on "uniform and exorbitant price differentials between various grades of gasoline."

The anti-trust action will have a narrower scope than first planned. Sections which the National Defense commission criticized as inadvisable have been deleted.

If successful in the suit, the department predicted lower prices to consumers of oil products and higher prices for independent oil producers.

HINTS FOR HOME OWNERS

Bedroom Arrangement

Prospective home builders are cautioned to arrange bedrooms with special consideration as to privacy. Bedrooms should open directly on a common hall. Wise planning of the openings in bedrooms is vitally important to insure proper placing of beds and other furniture. Adequate ventilation is essential, and sunlight should be afforded at some time during the day.

Wall Color

Dark walls soak up light just as a sponge soaks up water. A dark-walled room which is not exceptionally well illuminated by daylight is bound to require more electric light in the evening. With dull dark walls light is dim and struggling. With clean light walls both electric bulbs and daylight spread their radiance in full strength.

Cleaning Varnished Floors

As a rule, varnished hardwood floors that have never been waxed should not be washed with water. However, if they are badly soiled they may be gone over with a cloth wrung from slightly soapy water, followed by a second wiping with a rag moistened with clean water. Wipe dry immediately and polish with an oil-treated mop.

Replace Electric Fuses

Blown-out fuses may be replaced by the home owner without much trouble. The current should be cut off at the main switch, with care taken not to touch any of the metal parts. Fuses of the same rating as the ones replaced should be used. It is not wise to use any substitutes such as coins. The capacity of fuses is plainly marked on the metal rim around the face or on the contact end.

Ceiling Level

Architects today recommend lower ceilings, having established the fact that any space greater than 12 inches above a window head is of no cooling value unless ventilated.

PLANES SOLD TO CANADA

Pittsburgh, Sept. 30 (AP)—Pennsylvania-Central airlines has sold two twin-engine Boeing 247-D 10-passenger transport planes for use in training Canadian pilots for Great Britain, President C. Bedell Monroe announced. He said the three-mile-a-minute ships were sold to a New York broker with the understanding they were to be delivered to the Canadian government.

Questions and Answers

Q. What principles should be considered in the planning of bedrooms?

A. Sleeping rooms should be well separated from the balance of the house and should be located so as to receive sunlight at some time during the day and, if possible, be favored by exposure to the prevailing winds. Their size need only be sufficient to accommodate essential furniture, consisting of bed, dresser, and one or two chairs, and to provide space to permit easy access to the furniture and closet. Plan these rooms so that their shape and the relationship of wall openings and wall spaces will permit an arrangement of furniture which does not require walking around a bed in order to reach the bedroom entrance door, closet, and dresser.

Q. What fittings are necessary for a minimum clothes closet, and what size should the closet be?

A. Fittings for such a closet should include a hanging pole, parallel to the door and a shelf. Poles may be of hardwood, one inch in diameter, or metal, three-quarters of an inch in diameter, and placed about five and one-half feet above the floor. Deep shelves should be avoided. Provide a clearance of at least four inches between shelf and pole. The depth, front to back, of the closet should be at least 22 inches, although two feet is considered more desirable. If a hook strip is included at the front or rear of the closet, increase this measurement to 30 inches. The width, end to end, should be about two feet wider than the door opening. Space greater than 12 inches to the right or left of the door in a small closet is inaccessible.

SURE THINGS

Kenmore, N. Y.—The November election will decide whether As-ssemblyman Charles O. Burney, Jr., is to advance to the New York Senate but the 1941 Kenmore directory already lists him as a state senator. Similarly, Justin C. Morgan is listed as state assembly-man although he also must be elected. Village Clerk Walter Ducker, editor of the Director, feels safe in the prognostications—both can-didates are republicans in a norma-ly republican district.

HAPPY ENDING

Bishop, Calif.—Sam Wasson re-turned to his truck empty handed after a long fruitless tramp on a deer hunt. There on a bed of moss he had collected to take home was a big buck deer asleep. The animal started to leap. Wasson felled it with a single shot and it died on the mossy bed ready to be carted home.

SORRY BOSS

Spokane, Wash.—Traffic officer Art Eslick didn't recognize the car and tagged it for overtime parking. His boss, traffic captain R. W. Hin-ton is out $2.

DRAFTEES WILL BE HEALTHIEST IN U.S. HISTORY

Rugged Tests Out-lined for Conscrip-tion Group

Washington, Sept. 30 (AP)—The army of 400,000 men who will take oath of allegiance shortly after reg-istration day, October 16, will be the healthiest conscription group in the nation's history.

Never since the first Continental Army was called into service in 1775, under General George Washington, has there been a more rugged group answering the call to the colors.

Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon gen-eral of the United States public health service, says the whole American people are in better phy-sical condition than at any time in its history, and the Army will choose its men in the most thorough physical and mental examinations medical science has devised.

Physical requirements will not be as strict as those used in selecting men for the regular Army in peace-time, but the men chosen will be near-perfect physical specimens. In addition to checking every detail from ingrowing toenails to dandruff, the inspecting boards also will make rudimentary mental tests indicat-ing the prospective soldier's ability to stand up under the strain of un-usual camp conditions, training marches, and the pounding of rifle and cannon fire on maneuvers.

Local draft boards and the physicians in local communities will do the preliminary sifting of those called up for examination and as many as thirty per cent may be eliminat-ed immediately because of poor teeth, flat feet, hernias, hemor-rhoids, tonsillitis, faulty vision, ven-ereal disease and other ailments. None will be excused from possible duty but will be put on a deferred status under which they are subject to call at any time.

The examining boards and phy-sicians in communities who know the prospective draftees may eliminate many men, War department officials said, for no other reason than their inability to get along with other people. It also is true that many men able to maintain their emo-tional balance in ordinary life blow up when thrown into close contact and competition in a training camp.

Men selected for training will un-dergo a second medical examination, much more thorough than the home examination, when they reach a training camp. Here another ten per cent may be weeded out for physical and mental defects missed by the home town physician. Mil-itary surgeons of the regular Army and reserve corps will perform every test from eye examinations to blood analyses and will be particularly on the alert for men faking diseases as well as those covering up defects in order to get into the service.

X-ray diagnosis and tuberculin tests; have no major eye disorders; have sound feet, teeth and hands; be able to read and write; have no evidence of infectious disease; be free of syphilis and gonorrhea, and be able to pass a reasonable intelli-gence test.

Dr. Parran estimated that be-tween 20,000 and 30,000 unsuspect-ed cases of tuberculosis will be found in the examination of draf-tees and that an unpredictable number of cases of latent syphilis will be found. All of these, he hopes, may be placed under treatment im-mediately.

Col. Hershey Temporary Head of Draft Program

Washington, Sept. 30 (AP)—Lt. Col. Lewis B. Hershey, who went to grade school at a place called Hells Point, today became the temporary boss of the nation's first peacetime conscription program.

Pending appointment of a permanent No. 1 man, President Roosevelt, has by executive order conferred upon Col. Hershey all the powers of the director of selective service.

Under the order, Hershey has the power to issue public notices and instructions, to allocate funds, to appoint certain subordinates and to take other steps necessary to proceed with conscription.

The designation of Hershey as, in effect, acting head of the draft undertaking, stimulated speculation on the subject of its permanent head. President Roosevelt told his press conference Friday that he had selected the man for the job, but could not announce his name because of the uncertainty whether the man could accept.

GET BACK WAGES

Philadelphia, Sept. 30 (AP)—Ninety-one employees of the Berkshire Knitting mills at Reading have been given more than $10,000 in back wages. Frank J. G. Dorsey, regional director of the Federal Wage-Hour law, said the company voluntarily made the payment when its attention was called to failure to pay overtime wages to a number of employees it had classified as executives through a misunderstanding.

FATS RATIONED

Rome, Sept. 30 (AP)—Cooking fats were rationed today for the first time in Italy. The monthly allotment will be 28 ounces. Each person will be allowed slightly less than one pint of oil a month, plus 10 ounces of butter, lard or suet. Other necessities already rationed include sugar and laundry soap.

COMMISSIONERS BEAR BURDEN OF DRAFT ROUTINE

1,200,000 in State Expected to Register October 16

Harrisburg, Sept. 30 (AP)—An intricate, detailed job confronts the unpaid officials who will have charge of the one-day registration of approximately 1,200,000 Pennsylvanians for possible military service, under instructions announced today by Governor James.

The county commissioners have agreed to take over the job in 66 counties, while in Philadelphia the school board will handle it.

To start, they will have to appoint the registration board and chief registrar for each precinct; make all arrangements for the registration; distribute the stacks of cards, certificates, placards, instruction leaflets and other materials, and advise the governor by wire on October 13 at the latest, their county's state of readiness.

Aside from general supervision, the county officials must arrange for registration of men within the age limits — 21 to 35 inclusive — who are sick, in hospitals, away at schools, or inmates of asylums, jails or other institutions.

As soon as registration is completed, it is their job to notify the governor by telegram how many men are registered for the area served by each of the local draft boards in their county, and distribute the completed cards and other supplies among the proper boards.

They will appoint special registrars to register those sick in hospitals, and may appoint special boards to register men who are distant from their homes — attending training camps, schools, colleges, etc. — and mail their cards to the governors of their home states.

Persons sick at home must designate a "competent person" to seek authority to register them. Those in quarantine or too sick to be registered October 16 must notify their local board as soon as they can be registered, and present "competent evidence" to excuse their failure to register on the proper day.

Inmates of asylums and penal institutions must be registered on the day of their discharge, by the head of the institution, who will mail their registration cards to the governors of their home states.

To Advise Boards

Governor James emphasized that "all persons may register wherever they happen to be on registration day," and their records will be sent to their home precinct.

The temporary state draft organization on capital hill was augmented, meanwhile, with the arrival of Colonel Thomas Jenkins and Major John P. Easby of the Army engineer reserves, to advise draft appeal boards on occupational deferment.

Jenkins and Easby, both residents of Philadelphia who had been assigned previously to the assistant secretary of war, will explain what industries the War department considers to be vital, and what employees are vital in their jobs, to assist the boards in determining whether a man is more valuable in his civilian job than he would be in the Army.

Eyster Thursday afternoon the Emmitsburg Women's club announced plans for a card party to be held in the near future for the benefit of the children's aid society of Frederick county. WHAT WILL IT COST?

You may not ask that question when your doctor hands you a prescription. But it probably is in your mind. And that's perfectly natural.

We welcome an opportunity to answer that question for you. Here's how prescriptions are priced in this establishment: To the cost of our fresh, potent drugs we add the time of a skilled pharmacist in filling your prescription, plus overhead and a modest profit. This fair price is no more—and often less—than you pay where prescriptions are haphazardly priced. Because our volume is large, our costs are low. CONGRESS TO ACT ON EXCESS PROFITS TAX

Would Boost Corporation Income Levy Rate to 24 P.C.

Washington, Sept. 30 (AP)—Congress put a $1,000,000,000 excess profits tax bill at the top of its calendar today after a Senate-House committee finished redrafting the measure to include a boost in the normal corporation income tax rate from the present 20.9 to 24 per cent.

The income tax increase would be in addition to the 25 to 50 per cent excess profits levy provided in the bill and, like the latter, would apply to 1940 corporation income. Special lower income tax rates for corporations earning less than $25,000 would not be affected by the income tax increase.

Final agreement on the legislation, which is part of the defense program, was reached at an unusual Sunday session of the conference committee appointed to compose differences between the senate and house, which approved the bill in different forms.

The measure may become law by a stroke of President Roosevelt's pen this week-end.

One of two provisions which the administration wants at once would permit industries to deduct from their taxable income, the entire cost of new facilities completed for defense purposes after June 10, 1940. These deductions would be at the rate of 20 per cent a year over a five-year period.

The other would suspend, during the indefinite period of the excess profits tax, the present 8 to 7 per cent limitations on profits from warships and military aircraft.

In addition to these provisions and the new taxes, the legislation would create a new system of government insurance, purchasable at low rates by draftees, national guardsmen on active duty and other members of the military and naval establishments.
